I'm Kisaragi Chihaya, 15 years old.
A girl learns to be a singer.
A girl who can't be seen if alone.
I'm not interested in becoming something like an Idol but to become a Pro-like singer. I would serve as a perfect stepping stone...
Jeeze, I'm gonna be a singer entertainment production company called 765 Productions! For an interview, in order to become an Idol
Nervous much? Relax!
Just be looking. I can already tell she's GOOD girl. Ah well, she'll only just end up producing here.
A little girl's going to interview me?
I'm Amami Haruka, The Breathing Idol of the Future!
Thanks for waiting!
I'm Otonashi Kotori, your interviewer!
Your aim is to become an Idol?
Nice meeting you.
Pleased to meet you.
Yes, sir!
First, Miss Kisaragi Chihaya-San. Can you tell me which of the two you're confident of having a the reasoning and or attributing?
Without further ado, let me ask some questions
You must be speaking on the language of the industry, aren't you... It's difficult to understand for an ordinary person like me.
Both of you seem to have good potential. Great!!
I've been called the 'master' on vocal things, but I should think that she is... I don't know. Lets see together.
How do you, Miki T.Hibiki-Style?
There's no wit's cookie when just been recruited can start straight away.
You start with working the cue.
Yes, sir!
Are there any questions from you two?
Yes, when can I start singing?
Yup!
...With what?
Can I have another conference before I go back home?
Do you have a question, Style?
Some food, presumably...?
I like that kind of humor!
You're so cute, I want to take you home with me!
Hello, Miss Kotoko-San you bring me the demotape leftovers from yesterday?
Calm down Haruka... Not now.
And you can see you're not ready yet, Chihaya.
I want to sing. I'm someone who loves to sing!!
Chihaya is everything for me, too!!
Singing is everything for me!
That's why!! Can you only for me to be with them?
I love to sing too. I always sing to my little brothers.
